WHYY-FM's Newsworks Tonight to Broadcast Live from Wildwood, NJ

The station's third on-location broadcast focuses on hurricane Sandy recovery

PHILADELPHIA, July 23, 2013 — On Friday, August 30, WHYY-FM's Newsworks Tonight will broadcast live at 6:00 p.m. from Wildwoods Convention Center, located at 4501 Boardwalk in Wildwood, NJ. NewsWorks Tonight is a half-hour news program that features regional news reports drawing on information gathered by the staff of WHYY.

Taking place the Friday before Labor Day, NewsWorks Tonight host Dave Heller will anchor the program, which is the station's third and final remote broadcast from the Jersey Shore this summer. The sequence of shows focuses on the Jersey Shore's rebuilding efforts in the aftermath of hurricane Sandy. Listeners hear from WHYY reporter Tracey Samuelson, as well as other reporters who cover New Jersey. The general public is welcome to observe the program live at the Convention Center. After the broadcast, Heller, Samuelson and the NewsWorks Tonight team will be available for a meet and greet.

"Since the expansion of our airwaves into New Jersey, we've increased our reporting capabilities in the Garden State and brought more discussion of New Jersey topics to our programs," said Bill Marrazzo, WHYY president and CEO. "As a reflection of our commitment to expanding our presence in this community, we are pleased to maintain an ongoing presence at the shore this summer."

WHYY acquired operation of five former New Jersey Network radio stations in July 2011. Now WHYY-FM's broadcast coverage extends from Princeton to Cape May and from Camden to the shore. Newsworks Tonight can be heard on the airwaves in New Jersey on WNJZ-FM, 90.3, Cape May Court House, WNJM-FM, 89.9, Manahawkin, WNJN-FM, 89.7, Atlantic City, WNJB-FM, 89.3, Bridgeton, and WNJS-FM, 88.1, Berlin.
