Radio Times Goes on the Road to Bucks County with Marty Moss-Coane

PHILADELPHIA, March 12, 2015 — Award-winning host Marty Moss-Coane will be at James A. Michener Art Museum on Monday, April 20 from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. to record a program for WHYY-FM's Radio Times on the Road.

Bucks County has long been recognized for its thriving art scene. At Radio Times on the Road, Moss-Coane and a panel of experts will examine the rich cultural heritage of Bucks County. Moss-Coane will be joined by historian David Leopold, painter Robert Beck and playwright Chris Durang to discuss the many writers, performers and cartoonists that have settled in Bucks County, from the golden-age of the mid-twentieth century to the recent revival of the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope. Attendees are invited to participate in the discussion during a Q&A session. The discussion will be broadcast on WHYY-FM (90.9) later that week.

"After 25 years on the air covering news for Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, Marty's deep fount of local knowledge is unmatched," said Bill Marrazzo, WHYY president and CEO. "Listening to Marty on air is always captivating. Attending one of her public dialogues allows loyal listeners and fans to personally engage with her."

Tickets start at only $25 for WHYY members. Non-members may purchase two tickets for $100, including a WHYY membership. For more information and to register, visit WHYY.org/events or call 215-351-0511 during regular business hours.
